A conference to be held at the annual Congress of the Federation of the Humanities and Social Sciences

May 16-20, 2022 | ONLINE

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Martin Weller
Professor of educational technology at the UK Open University, and Director of the GO-GN project, a global network of OER researchers. He chaired the Open University's first major e-learning course in 1999 with nearly 15,000 students and has authored several books.

Sherri Spelic
Sherri Spelic teaches elementary physical education at American International School Vienna. She has written extensively on topics related to education, identity and power and among other things publishes a monthly social justice newsletter for educators.

Maha Bali
Associate Professor of Practice at the Center for Learning and Teaching at the American University in Cairo. She has a PhD in Education from the University of Sheffield, UK. She writes and speaks frequently about social justice, critical pedagogy, and open and online education.

Brenna Clarke Gray
Coordinator, Educational Technologies at Thompson Rivers University in Kamloops, British Columbia. Her research interests include the history and future of open tenure processes, the role of care and care work in the practice of educational technology, and scholarly podcasting.

INVITED SPEAKERS

• Enilda Romero-Hall
• Jess Mitchell
• Beyhan Farhadi
• Sava Sahel Singh
• Matt Bower
• Terry Anderson
• Tony Bates
• Stephanie Moore
• Verena Roberts
• Nadia Naffi
and more!

SOCIAL PLAN

Bhangra dance class with Gurdeep Pandher of the Yukon, Jon Dron's music with song, a mindfulness session with Kendra Coupland, beats with DJ Dr. Jones, and cohorted meet-ups!

https://otessa.org @OTESSA_org